

Join Northeastern Ontario's Health Care Leaders!

Health Sciences North is an organization dedicated to being patient and family focused, digitally enabled, and socially accountable, while supporting and developing our people and advancing our academic and research impact for Northeastern Ontario. We pride ourselves on being a learning hospital, providing professional development opportunities for our staff.

The Northern Maternal Child Network (NMCN) is seeking an innovative individual for the position of Regional Perinatal Lead to design and teach professional development initiatives, provide information and resources to partner organizations, monitor perinatal health status, quality, and performance, and collaborate with partners on quality improvement initiatives to enhance perinatal care. The Regional Perinatal Lead position is primarily virtual, with potential travel as required.

The ideal candidate will have a minimum of a four (4) year Bachelor of Science Degree in Nursing (BScN) from an accredited university. We are looking for someone with a minimum of five (5) years' experience working in a Labour and Delivery department within a health care environment. Experience with quality improvement initiatives to advance practice, evaluate quality of care, and support professional development is also required. Candidates that possess research experience, training or recently experience with project management and/or possess a Master's Degree are preferred.

DEPARTMENT OVERVIEW

The Northern Maternal Child Network (NMCN) is a formalized network of maternal, newborn and child health care providers and agencies in Northern Ontario. As a means to support health care providers, the NMCN performs local gap analysis and planning, executes improvements to care, connects providers and advocates for the North by providing input to provincial entities. NMCN is linked regionally, provincially and nationally with perinatal health care organizations and collaborates on many initiatives to enhance perinatal care.
